According to a leading medical institution, our body needs at least 9 cups of water a day, so it is important we drink healthier water.

The Science of Healthier Water

Aquaporins, also known as water channels, are responsible for flushing water in and out of our cells. Water filtered by the Nano Natural Mineral Alkaline Water Filter enlarges these aquaporins thus enabling more water to flow in and out of our cells. Water molecules are “nanonized” by our filter and are more penetrating than normal water due to their smaller size. It is up to 3 times more hydrating than normal water. Also, detoxification occurs at a deeper cellular level due to the enlarged aquaporins and nano-sized water molecules.

This combination of the two factors stated above results in more energy and better health. It provides the essential minerals of potassium and magnesium to help bring your body back into balance. If an alkaline water ionizer or filter uses electricity, it's the type you want to avoid. Water filtered from our Nano Natural Mineral Alkaline Water Filter does not use any electrical intervention to create alkaline water. It generates the oxygen needed to arrest the development of free radicals.

Free radicals especially thrive in a body that is acidic. Water filtered from our Nano Natural Mineral Alkaline Water Filter has a PH of 9 to 11 which is alkaline.

Many of us enjoy our food very much, ranging from delicious meaty dishes, spicy dishes to even barbecued meats and washing it down with our favorite drink, from the humble beer to select wines and alcohol. This kind of diet is more acidic and allows more harmful free radicals to thrive in our body and for them to attack our vital cells and organs. Now you can immediately counter the acidic effects (and still enjoy your food) by consuming water rich with alkaline.

Most types of water, including tap water and bottled water, are oxidizing agents as their Oxidation-Reduction Potential (ORP) value is positive. Nano Natural Mineral Alkaline Filtered Water is an anti-oxidizing agent, as it has a negative 400 ORP value and it is able to generate extra electrons to neutralize the harmful effects of free radicals on the body.

The nano technology in our water is able to restructure the water molecule frequency to 53-57Hz. Our bodies require 60Hz and below to pass the essential nutrients to our cells.
